Business Technology Solutions

An Introduction

Amor Group is a leading provider of business technology solutions to the energy, transport and public sectors. We combine in-depth knowledge of our markets with our diverse range of specialist technical skills, continuous innovation and a proven track record in successful project delivery to truly add value for our customers.

Energy

Amor Group's twenty year track record is robust and respected throughout the Oil, Gas and Utilities marketplaces. We are experts in delivering business technology solutions and services that enhance production performance, drive business value, meet industry standards and ensure regulatory compliance.

Transport

The Transport team at Amor Group operates across the entire spectrum of aviation including airlines, airports, air traffic controllers, authorities and ground handlers. Our detailed understanding of aviation operations means we have the skills and experience to build practical solutions that deliver real business benefit to our clients.

Public Sector

Our Public Sector capability is demonstrated by our appointment to key public sector procurement frameworks, where our assignments typically involve business and process improvement, IT consultancy, development, delivery and support, and the provision of testing services. We consistently deliver savings in public sector organisations across the UK including the NHS, devolved and central government departments and agencies, as well as local education authorities.

“ Amor Group has in-depth technical and business expertise in hydrocarbon accounting, production reporting and pipeline management. Their energy solutions have consistently delivered tremendous value to BP in the Southern North Sea since the early 1990s. On just one occasion, the allocation forecasting system saved BP several million pounds! ”

Paul Douglas, Senior Negotiator MPO, BP
